

WATCH OUT!

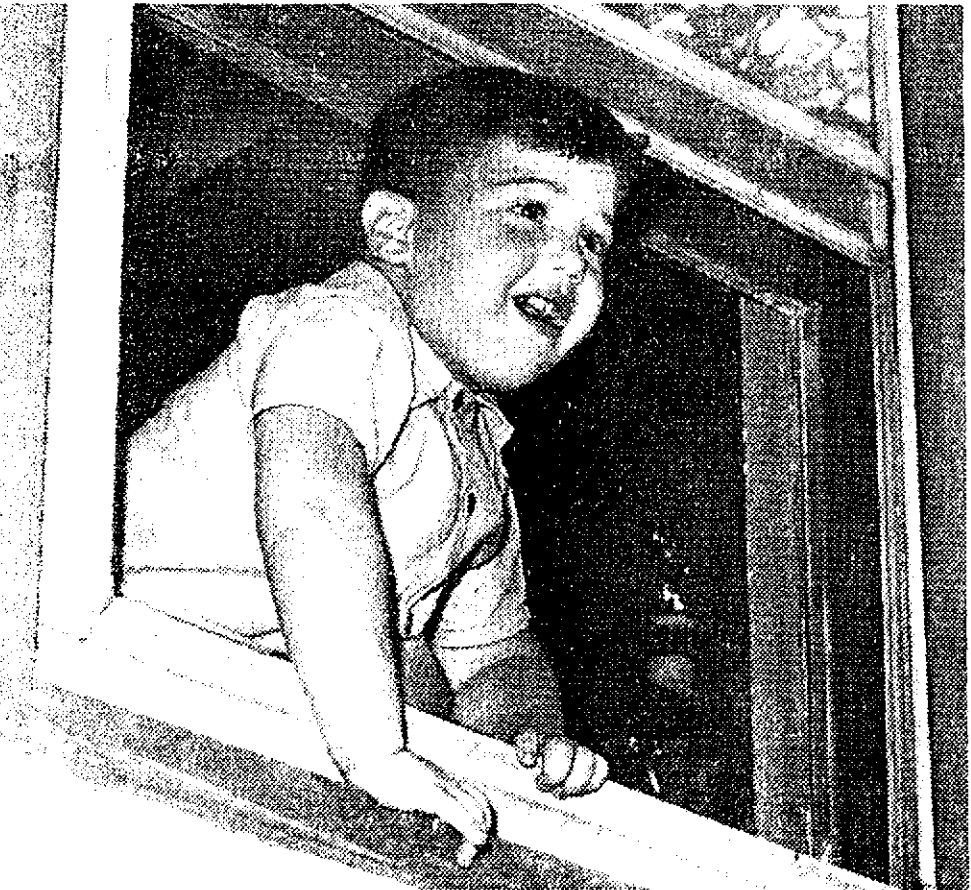

Playing with matches is one of the leading causes of accidents in the home for children in the 1-14 age group.

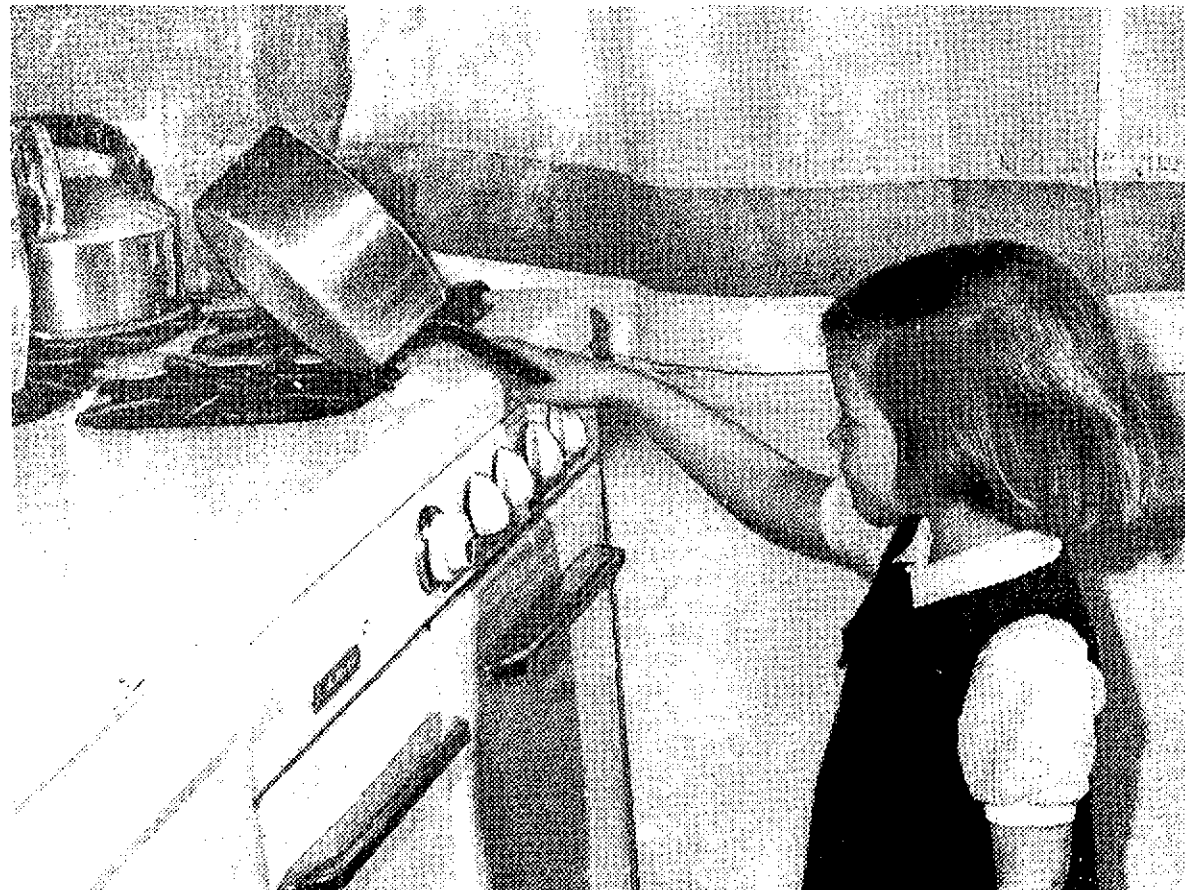

This Week's PICTURE STORY by AP PHOTOGRAPHER Jack Kanthal

So many of the accidents which occur in the most obvious place — the home — could so easily be avoided. Here, posed photos of some of the typical accident-breeders should serve as a constant warning to parents, baby-sitters, and all those persons charged with the responsibility of protecting young children in their care.

More children from the age-range of 1-to-14 die, each year, as a result of fatal accidents — than as a result of the eight leading childhood diseases combined. This was validated in a recent report issued by the National Safety Council. An estimated 12,000 children succumb, annually, from accidents; of these, over half die as a result of fatal accidents in the home.

Windows should not be left open and window screens fastened securely. A fatal fall may occur when the toddler, left alone, plays by window.

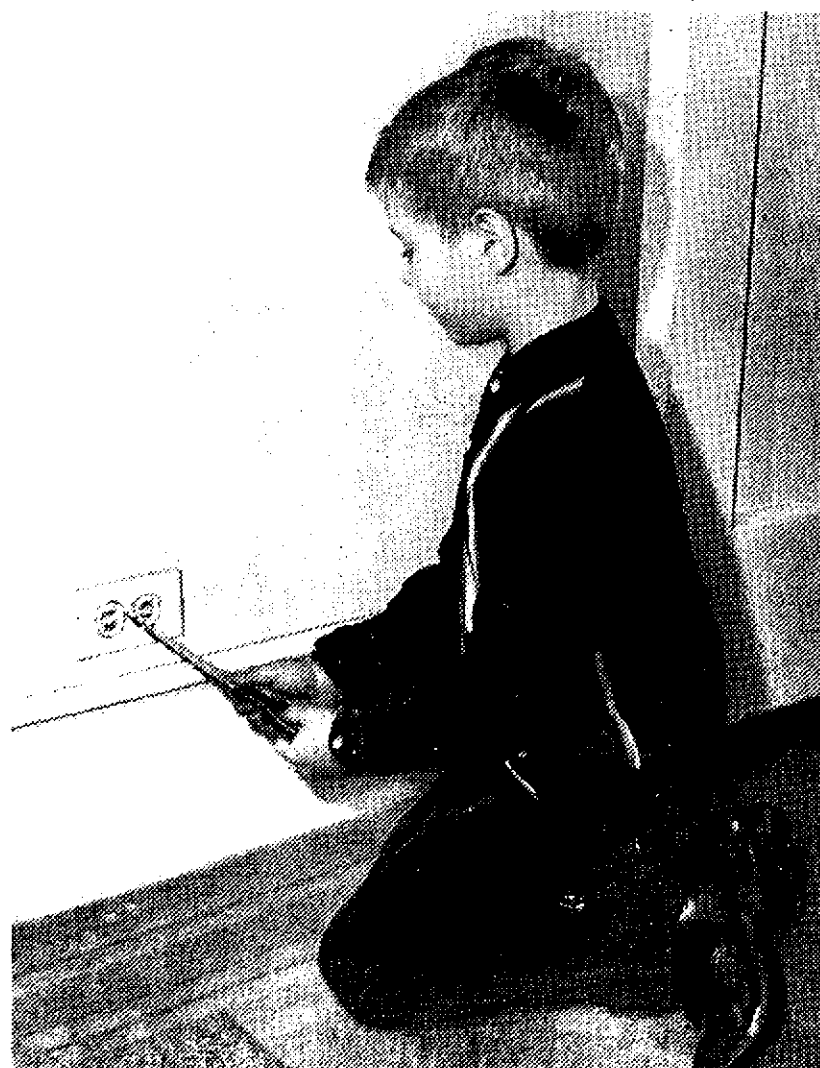

Don't leave a child alone in the kitchen when things are cooking on the stove. Curious, they may reach up to see what's cooking, burning themselves seriously.

Keep guns locked up. Gunshot wounds, frequent among young children, are caused when firearms are left within reach.

Key's, change, cosmetics, left within reach, tempt small children to taste them. Internal injuries often result. Watch out for toys with detachable parts that can be swallowed.

Electrical outlets in the home can be a serious hazard for a curious child. Best bet, cap the ones not in use.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—A sure way to make a hit with the little guys is to dress them like the big guys. And today that doesn't mean Harris tweeds and a crew cut. You gotta give 'em the Carnaby Look.

Rumor (or mayhap rumour?) has it that the mod mode is dying out in London even on the grubby street where it got its start. But it's sure catching on here with the speed of a rolling stone. And on little chaps it looks cute.

"The days of cornhusker fashions even for toddlers are over," said Charles Sheldon, president of Hi-Line, a firm that turns the mudpie set into shining examples of sartorial splendor.

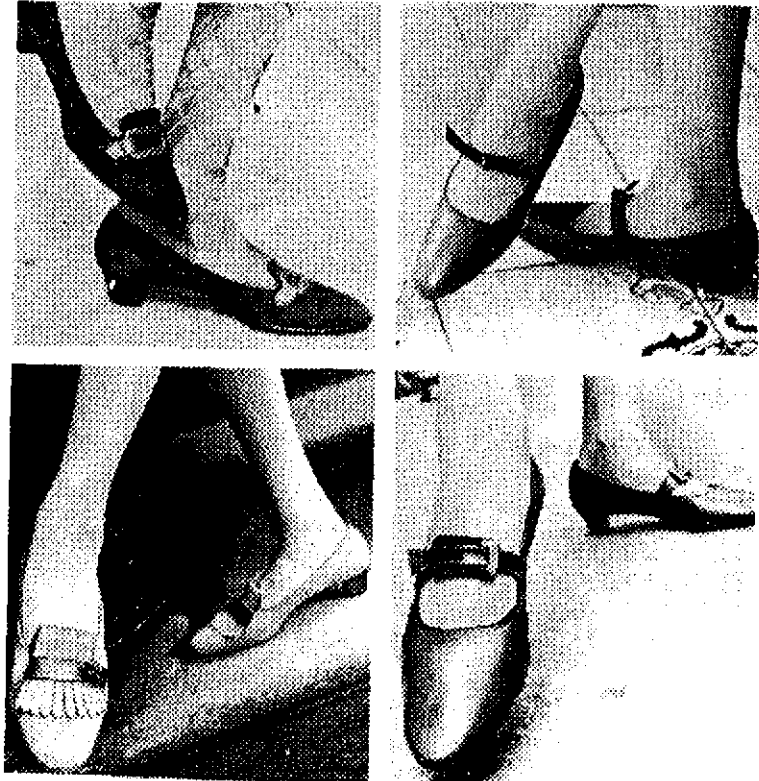

"By cornhusker I mean the shiny blue serge suit every boy was always buttoned into for dress-up occasions."

Sheldon likes the Carnaby fashions for all the fellas, big and little. All it is, he main- tains, is a different approach to basic, com- fortable styling.

"Take the Ivy League look," he said. "It was cut too narrow to be comfortable."

"The continental jacket was an awkward and unbecoming length but, more important for the kids, you couldn't get your hands into the pockets because there was no room." This is no big deal for the small fry. Maybe you want to look like big brother.

New Footwear Buckles Up

ANNOUNCING.....

Dr. Sam Strong announces the re-open- ing of his offices at 514 South Elm Street for the practice of general dentistry

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The bare facts of fashion life are centered on the knee this season. To show or not to show seems to be the question. And it's the most controversial quandary since the Bard put a famous line into the mouth of Hamlet.

Suddenly a long length of leg has more sex appeal than a bikini or a low-cut neckline. And more men are looking at what's going on from the hem down than from the waistline up.

In fact, legs are so "in" for fall that they would have to be pretty bowed to be really "out."

As our long-stemmed beau- ties grow longer with the rising hemline, it's only nat- ural that what they are shod with be in pretty perspective. To meet the many moods, shoe designers have never been so stylishly shook up.

Buckles, bows and ties are there to catch the down-foc- used eye on footwear with heels rarely more than one to one-and-a-half inch high.

Without question, neither the high heel nor the plain, undecorated pump is making the fashion scene this season.

Wiley Elected by Shriners

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Lee A. Wiley of Lawrenceville, N.J., has been elected first vice pres- ident of the Mid-Atlantic Shrine Association, which represents more than 150,000 Shriners in eight states.

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset

HE'S SIX GOING ON 16, at least when it comes to clothes. He wants to dress the way "big guys" do. Brown corduroy outfit with fitted bush jacket, belt and brass buttons, Dutch boy cap and brown and black striped slacks (top left) do the trick. Another happy little mod (top right) wears a wool Melton cap, pea jacket and matching fishtail slacks. The half-pint swinger (lower right) chooses a bright glen plaid jacket in camel, red and black, a red turtleneck and black slacks. These designs are from the new Hi-Line collection based on the popular Carnaby Look scoled down to size for little boys of three to seven.

LBJ's Cars Are Bugged in Reverse

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Presi- dent Johnson's limousines are bugged—in reverse. He can hear people along the curb but they can't hear him.

There's no "big brother" tac- tic in installation of tiny micro- phones—just heads-up politics.

If special measures weren't taken, Johnson could drive for miles through crowded streets in the air-conditioned presiden- tial limousines and—with the windows rolled up—never hear a cheer.

For any politician—and they all crave popular approval—sil- ence is perhaps the unkindest cut of all.

But knowing what people say on the outside is particularly important to Johnson. He makes a habit of popping out of his car along motorcade routes for un- scheduled speeches and hand- shaking sessions and he doesn't want to make this effort if the people along the way are unen- thusiastic.

If he hears cheering and shouts of approval, he knows he'll get a good reception.

In 1964 when the White House got a new bubbletop limousine, tiny microphones were mounted inconspicuously on the outside to pick up crowd noises and transmit them to the insulated interior.

In a busy campaign, however, this particular vehicle—the only one of its kind in the world—can't be everywhere. If Johnson rides in four motorcades in one day, he's lucky if the big bub- bletop is on hand for two of them. Cars can't be carted around the country as quickly as people.

Because the President often must drive through crowds in another, less well-equipped car, a second White House limousine has been outfitted to listen to the crowds. This is a bullet-resi- stant Cadillac he regularly uses in Washington.

Technicians still are experi- menting with the apparatus just installed in this vehicle. It may be ready for Johnson on Mon- day, when he is expected to make appearances in St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo., and Atlantic City, N.J.

In everyday travels around Washington, Johnson has little or no interest in curbside com- ments. The "bug" can be turned off on such occasions.

Student Riots Bring Injuries

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Several persons were injured Wednesday night as mounted police rode their horses into rioting students protesting the government's uni- versity policies.

A seven-story building was set afire, two automobiles burned in the two-hour battle between police and the thousands of stu- dents. Officials said several policemen and students were injured as the students hurled home-made fire bombs and stones, and helmeted police on foot and horseback used clubs and tear gas to disperse them.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Jer- cho," CBS' new secret agent series that had its premier Thursday night, has the general look of being patched together from leftovers from other spy shows.

The trouble lay not with the principal actors. They are three stalwart young fellows who have not had much previous TV exposure. The problem lies in the story department.

In the first episode, the three agents—an American, a Briton and one who was supposed to be French but spoke with a marked Italian accent — were assigned to get an electronics expert into a secret radar sta- tion in Nazi-occupied Holland during World War II.

There was the usual quota of fighting, and even an attempt at comedy. But it all seemed rather forced and imitative. Or maybe there are just too many secret agents creeping around the networks. Anyway, it added up to a string of cliches.

This reviewer caught up with two comedy series that had their first shows last week at times that conflicted with other new shows.

"The Tammy Grimes Show" on ABC has the star playing a kooky hellsess whose big interest in life is trying to shake loose from her estate — which is tied up — vast sums for worthy causes. Thus Thursday night when she was kidnapped by four comedy-type thugs, she was de- lighted and tried to persuade them to double the size of the ransom and split with her.

Miss Grimes, a fine stage comedienne, has a distinctive style but it does not seem to adapt itself very well to televi- sion.

"The Hero" on NBC is a se- ries about a Western star who is dashing on camera but at home is one of those dopey husbands and fathers that used to domi- nate most TV situation com- edies. Thursday night's episode, however, featured the hilarious humor of a studio traffic jam and the plight of an actor who could not remember one short line.

Star Richard Mulligan, who had little to do except act har- assed, seems to be a pleasant enough fellow, but it was hard to tell much about the series from the single sample.

AFTER-CLASS GEOMETRY

Dear Helen: Last summer I visited my aunt and uncle for three months. The trouble is I met three girls inore. I am a boy. Two of them, we'll call them A and B, like me better than the third, which we'll call C.

A and B write to me, That's Okay, because they don't know each other that well.

But I like C better than A, and just as well as B, or maybe more. If I'm going to have two girl friends, I want them to be B and C. But A thinks I'm crazy about her, and C doesn't even know I like her as a girl friend.

How can I shake A and get C for a girl friend? If I write to C she may tell A and B and then I'd lose them all. I won't see any of them till next sum- mer. — Love Knot

Dear Knot: Why don't you spend the winter studying Geometry? Perhaps you'll learn that A plus B plus C doesn't equal a "wreck- tangle" as long as you keep your letters light and make no prom- ises. — H.

Dear Helen: This is a combina- tion "Teen Boost of the Month" and hot reply to "One of G.I.'s Children." Maybe she knocks us teens for a loop because her a-go-go is a-gone-gone. She should close her mouth and open her mind. (Or is she a "he"?)

I suppose she never heard of teen volunteer work in hospitals, and for the underprivileged and handicapped; how they go into Mexico and Alaska and down south to teach and help the poor?

One school I know packed 150,000 gifts for the men in Viet Nam, and the kids — 300 of them — gave up their Saturdays and Sundays to do it.

Women wore high boots way back when they wore bustles, which would be in OOGC's time, no doubt. And we all know that long hair has always, up until the last century, been the thing

Double-breasted coat from Monte-Sano & Pruzan's fall '66 collection (left) in dusty pink chinchilla wool is cut slim through the front. Back fullness is controlled by a low half belt. Davidow suit (right) has timeless styling in well-seamed camel hair. Jacket is nearly fitted and skirt is slim.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Color- set viewers will be able to re- cognize for the first time tonight that Matt Dillon's eyes are deep blue and Kiffy's hair is orange- red.

The beginning of the 12th sea- son of "Gunsmoke" brings the CBS Western to the home screen in color for the first time. But viewers won't be seeing any splashes of char- treuse and fuchsia, or any other bright colors, for that matter. That's the dictum of Philip Leacock, who has been guiding the destiny of the long-run se- ries.

Says the producer: "When it was announced that we were going to color, some of the peo- ple on the show said we could now repaint all the sets brilliant colors, put bright green curtains in the Long Branch saloon and new dresses on the girls. I said no."

"Oh, maybe the Long Branch is a bit brighter, but otherwise Dodge City will look pretty much the same. It would be easy to lose the dusty atmos- phere on the town by going wild on color. But we'd also be de- stroying the essential quality of the show."

Leacock is a jealous guardian of "Gunsmoke's" success, and his stars now appreciate his ef- forts. That wasn't always true. When he took over the show three years ago, the performers eyed him with suspicion.

After all, what right had he, an Englishman, to assume command on a basically Ameri- can saga?

"We had some clashes at first," admitted Leacock, dis- cussing his relationships with James Arness, Amanda Blake and Milburn Stone. "These peo- ple care so much about the show and their characters that they are suspicious of anyone who might want to tamper with them. I had to prove to them that I cared just as much as they did."

How much longer can "Guns- moke" last?

"That's entirely up to the ac- tors," Leacock remarked. "It can probably continue as long as they are willing to stay."

Main Street Will Not Be Same

LAVERNE, Okla. (AP) — Main Street in Laverne will never be the same.

Bursting with pride over the town's most distinguished citi- zen, city officials decided Mon- day to change the name of Main Street to Jayne Jayroe Boule- vard in honor of the new Miss America.

Letters to the 19-year-old beauty's home, which is located on the main street, will now be addressed to Miss Jane Ann Jayroe, Jayne Anne Jayroe Boulevard, Laverne, Okla.

The beauty queen, whose name is listed as Jane Ann on her birth certificate, is known in her hometown as Jayne Anne or Jay-Jay.

Zebulon M. Pike discovered the Colorado mountain peak which bears his name in 1806.

Church Attendance

BUILDS CHARACTER

"Why Me?"

"What did I do to deserve this?"

Often adversity is a blessing in disguise. Enforced idleness has led many men to think . . . to face the future with an honest appraisal of their past accomplishments.

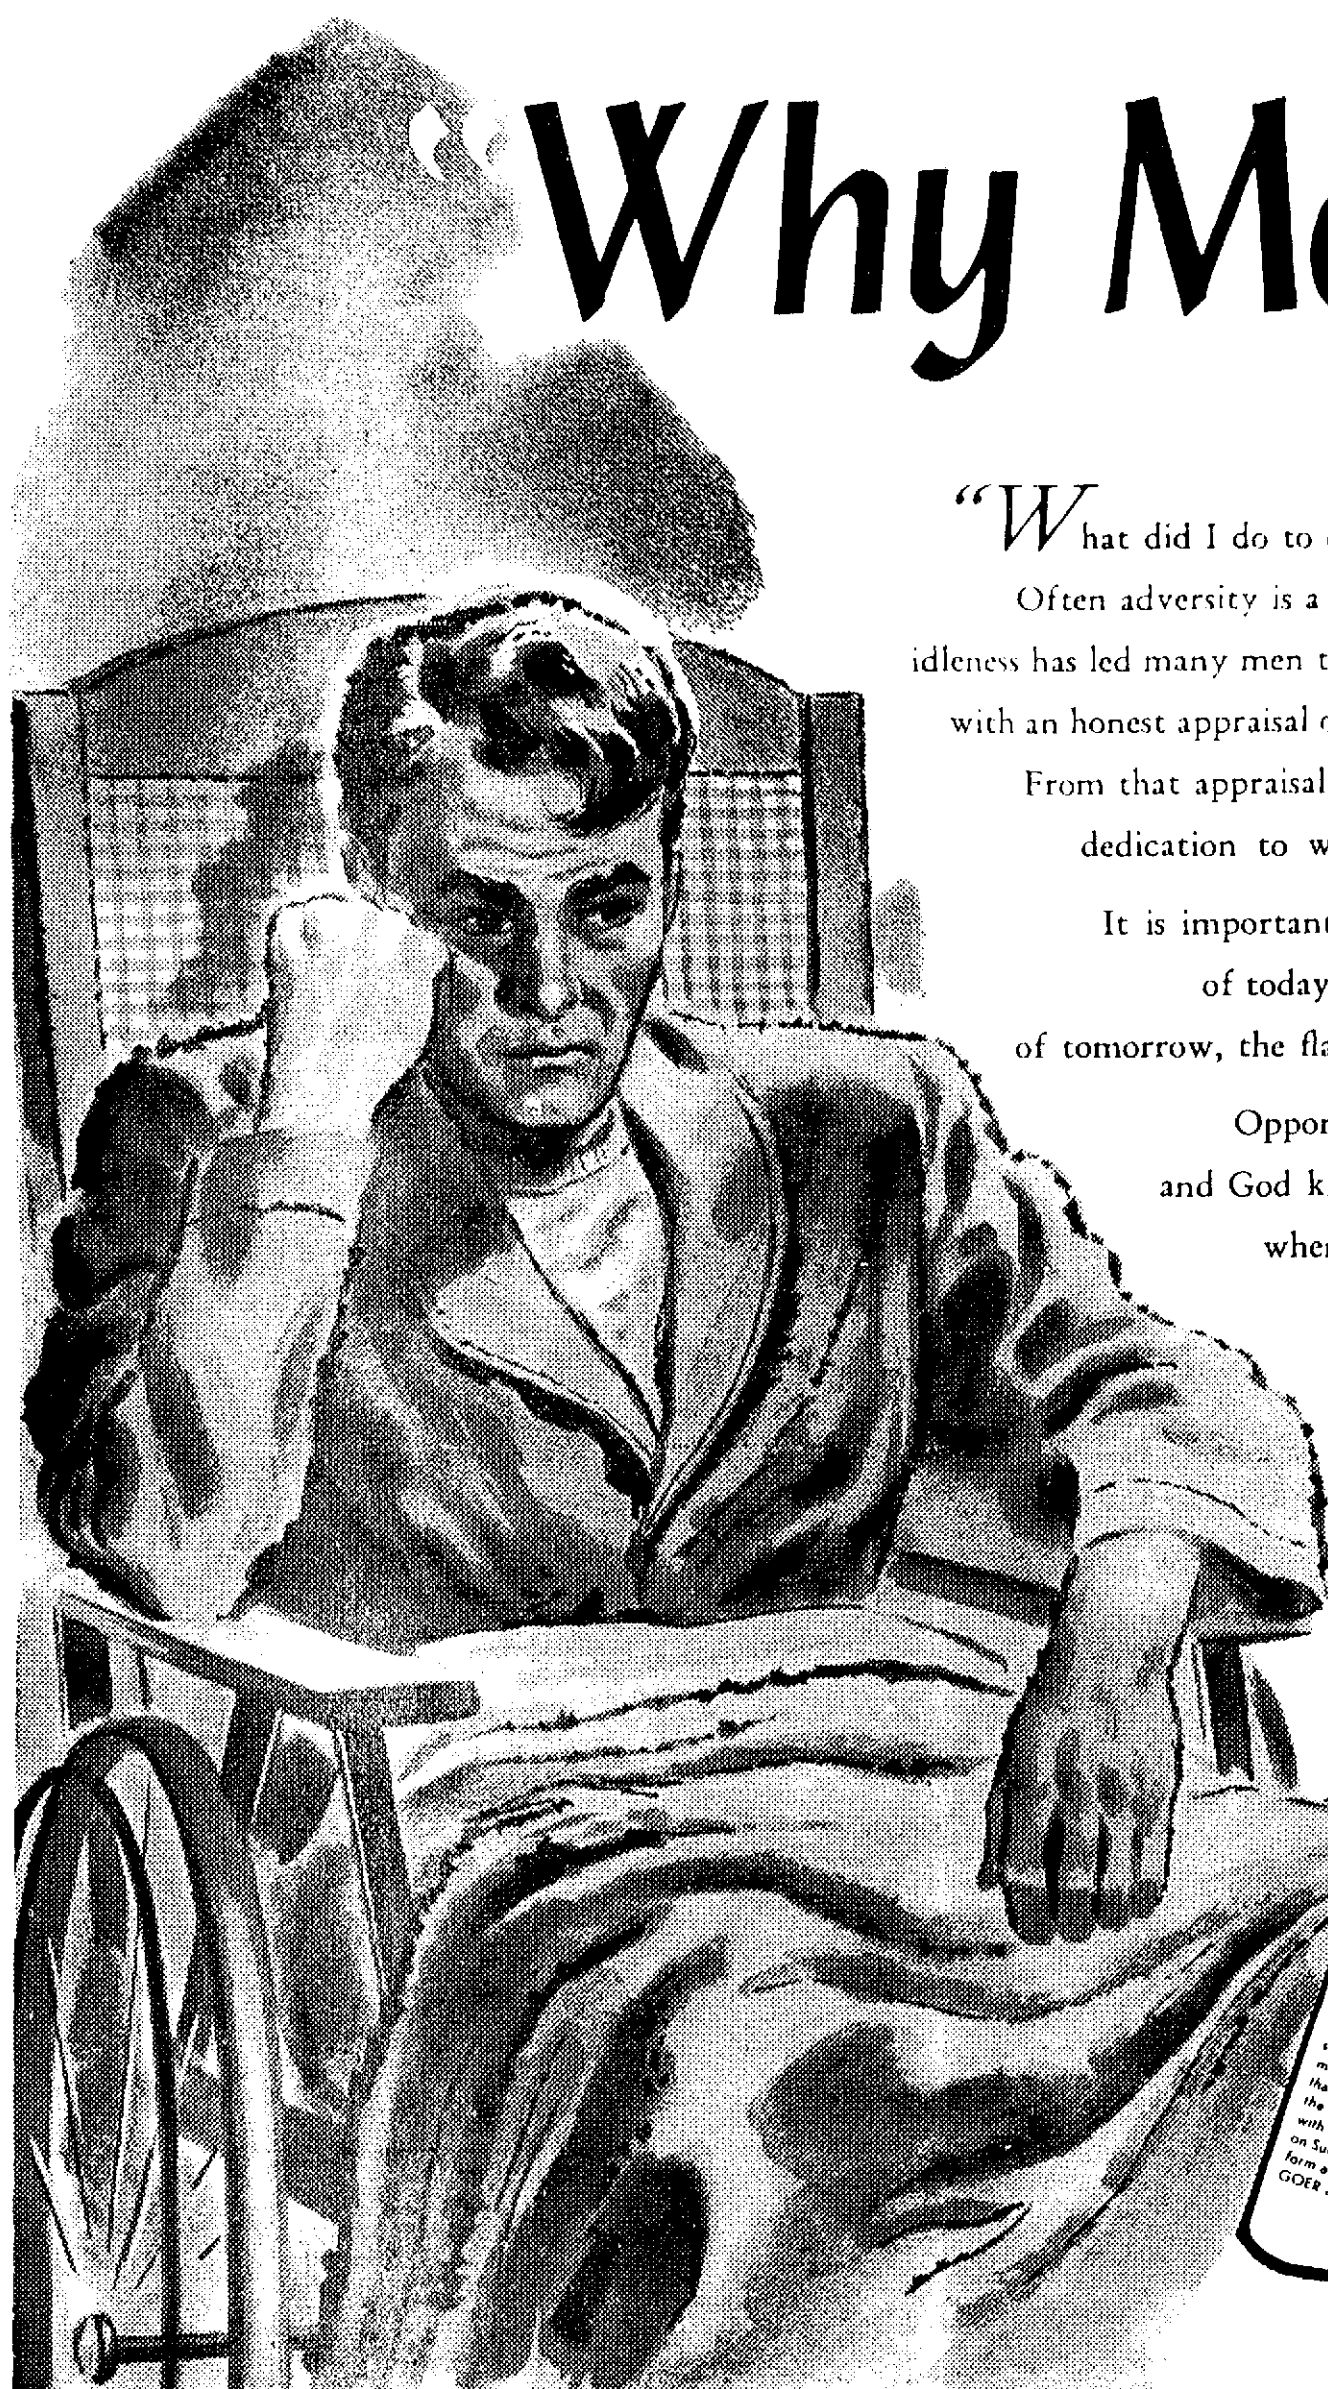

From that appraisal has come purpose, desire and dedication to worth-while accomplishments.

It is important to realize that the calamity of today may prove to be, in the light of tomorrow, the flame that tempered the metal.

Opportunity wears many disguises and God knows truth is best recognized when misfortune forces humility.

WIN AT BRIDGE

'Safety Play' Is Dangerous

When is a safety play not a safety play? When it turns out to be an "unsafety play", of course.

Look at all the cards and note that South can make five odd without any trouble. Whenever he gets the lead he simply plays the ace and king of trumps. This drops East's queen and jack whereupon dummy's ten spot will pick up West's nine.

An average bridge player will make these 11 tricks. So will most experts but today's South was the kind of expert who knew so much that he frequently managed to confuse himself.

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and returned the deuce. South won and played his ace of trumps. East followed with the queen and South paused for study.

There is a standard safety play available here to guard against finding the rest of the trumps in the West hand. You simply lead a low trump toward dummy. If West started with four trumps to the jack he will make only one natural trump trick.

South decided to make this play. East won with the jack and gave his partner a diamond ruff. The trouble with South's play was that in an effort to guard against one possible distribution he exposed himself to all sorts of trouble otherwise. There were many other ways including the actual one that this "safety" play could hurt him. In addition, even if West did hold all the missing trumps the play would not work if East held the ace of clubs. West would lead a club to his partner and still get the diamond ruff.

Bobcats Claw DeQueen 27 to 7 For Second Win

Revenge Is Sweet, Cats Remember '65

By Larry Don Wright
Hope Star SportsWriter

Combining a new but devastating offensive threat with their usual hardnose defensive play, the Hope Bobcats turned in their most outstanding game this season by clouting the DeQueen Leopards 27 to 7 Friday night in Hammons Stadium.

Everything seemed to work perfectly for the Cats as they scored two of their touchdowns on sustained drives of over sixty yards while the other two came as results of good defensive play.

However it was the Bobcat's new offensive game which brought Hope fans to their feet. Through two previous games this season, an unimpressive 14-0 victory of Arkadelphia and a tie last week with Prescott Hope's offense had shown few signs of life.

But the DeQueen encounter proved to be quite a different story. Sparked perhaps by a few recent offensive personnel changes, the Cats broke through the DeQueen defenders continually all night long to compile an exceptional 340 yards total offense.

Hope's first tally came on a nine yard scamper by tailback Danny Turner with just under six minutes remaining in the first period.

The drive originated from the Hope 31 yard line with Turner carrying all eight plays and accounting for 59 yards of the 69-yard march to paydirt. The other 10 yards came on two 5 yard penalties. Senior end Luther Shaw's kick for the PAT was wide to the right as Hope led DeQueen, 6-0.

DeQueen took the kickoff but was unable to move and on a fourth and three situation at their 26, QB Charlie Pike got off a 35-yard punt which rolled dead at the Hope 39.

From that point the Bobcats began their second touchdown drive with right at three minutes left in the first quarter.

In 8 plays the Bobcats covered the 61 yards for the score with junior quarterback Buzz Andrews carrying the final 10 yards for the points. The drive was sparked by an 18 yard pass play from Andrews to wingback Stan Parris and another 14 yard dash by Andrews to set up the scoring play. Shaw kicked the PAT this time splitting the uprights as the Bobcats took a commanding lead of 13-0 with 29 seconds remaining in the first quarter.

DeQueen had the ball for three plays from scrimmage before the Cats decided it was time to score again. This time it was the Hope defense rising to the occasion as Parris picked off a Pike aerial at the Leopard 34 yard line. From there, the senior safety, who had 17 interceptions to his credit last year alone, sprinted to the end zone for Hope's third TD of the night.

Shaw's kick was again true and the Bobcats led 20 to 0 with still 11 minutes and 41 seconds left in the half.

Again the Leopards were unable to get their offense going and punted out to Hope who took it at the DeQueen 46. But the Cats found the going tough and were forced to punt for the first time.

Starting within their own 40 the Leopards showed signs of mounting a serious drive but the Hope defense halted this threat at the Bobcat 39-yard line where halfback Mike Murphy cut off another DeQueen pass. The Cats offensive machine again began to tick. A 28-yard pass from Andrews to Shaw gave the home team a first down at the Leopard 19. The Cats got down to the 13 before a personal foul stymied the drive.

DeQueen then took it over on downs at the 21 yard line with 3:55 showing on the clock before halftime. The Leopards moved the ball out to midfield in three plays on runs of 17 and 4 by FB Bill Stanton and a nine yard gainer by HB Sam Cowling. With a first and 10 from that point Stanton broke for daylight and a clear field 50 yards for the Leopards only score. Cowling ran for the extra point and the score was Hope 20, DeQueen 7, with over two minutes left in the half.

The third quarter was chiefly defense with the only serious drive by Hope, with the Cats being stopped at the DeQueen 12 yard line. Three plays later the Bobcats recovered a Leopard fumble at the DeQueen 20 and were once again in scoring position.

On the first down play, Turner cut off left tackle, side stepping two would-be tacklers as he romped the 20 yards for the Cats final points of the night. Shaw ran the extra point giving the Bobcats a 27 to 7 lead as the subs finished the remainder of the game for Hope.

Turner led both teams in individual rushing statistics with 126 yards in 22 carries; Stanton of DeQueen, boosted by his one carry of 50 yards, wasn't far behind with 13 tries for 111 yards. Others for Hope were Andrews with 13 for 42; Dennis Turner 2-27; Mickey Allen 4 for 26; Mike Westbrook 3 for 21; Jerry McWilliams 4 for 14 and Rodney Jones 1-5.

The Bobcats led in first downs with 15 to 4 and yards rushing 251 to 185. The Cats led in net yards passing with 89 to 14.

Call Is Out, Stop the Slugs

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) —

The medical division of Oak Ridge Associated Universities has issued a call for 1,000 slugs, — snail-type, slippery gastropods — and offered to pay five cents for each one they get.

Today they issued this call: Stop the slugs!

Youthful stalkers for science had swamped the division of offices with more than 2,000 slugs by late Wednesday.

The slugs are to be used by the Orau Lipid Research Group. Lipids, proteins and carbohydrates make up the principal components of living cells.

Pardons vs. Paroles

A person on parole must report, from time to time, to an individual named by the parole board; a person who has received a pardon, however, is entirely free.

OFFICIAL FOOTBALL

By Coach Dave Nelson

Bob Churchich, the Nebraska quarterback, throws a pass complete in the end zone to Harry Wilson for a two-point conversion. Steve Heck, the Kansas guard, is offside at the snap.

The official should:

1. Award Nebraska the two-point conversion and penalize Kansas five yards on the kickoff.

2. Give Nebraska the option of accepting the two points with no penalty on the kickoff or penalize Kansas half the distance to the goal line.

3. Award Nebraska two points and the option of receiving or kickoff.

Team A shall have the option of declining the score and repeating the try following enforcement of the penalty or accepting the score with the enforcement of the penalty from the spot of the next kickoff. Rules 8-3-3 10-2-1-a-4

Juniors Win Everything But Score

By RALPH ROUNTON

Thursday night at Hammons Stadium the Hope Bobkittens suffered their first defeat of the season as the DeQueen Leopards came out on top by a score of 7-0.

The only score of the night came late in the first quarter when DeQueen took over the ball on their own 43 yard line. On the second play Dick VanBebber took the ball on a double reverse and scampered the 57 yards to paydirt. PAT was good and DeQueen led 7-0.

Several times throughout the ball game the Kittens made costly errors in critical situations on crucial plays.

The defensive play, though, was excellent on both sides. Ronny Brown and Larry McWilliams turned in excellent performances on defense.

Leading ball carrier for the Bobkittens and the game was Jimmy Alford, with 21 carries for 86 yards. John Spraggins followed with 6 carries for a total of 39 yards. VanBebber led for DeQueen with 15-85.

Has Girl Aboard Jet Airliner

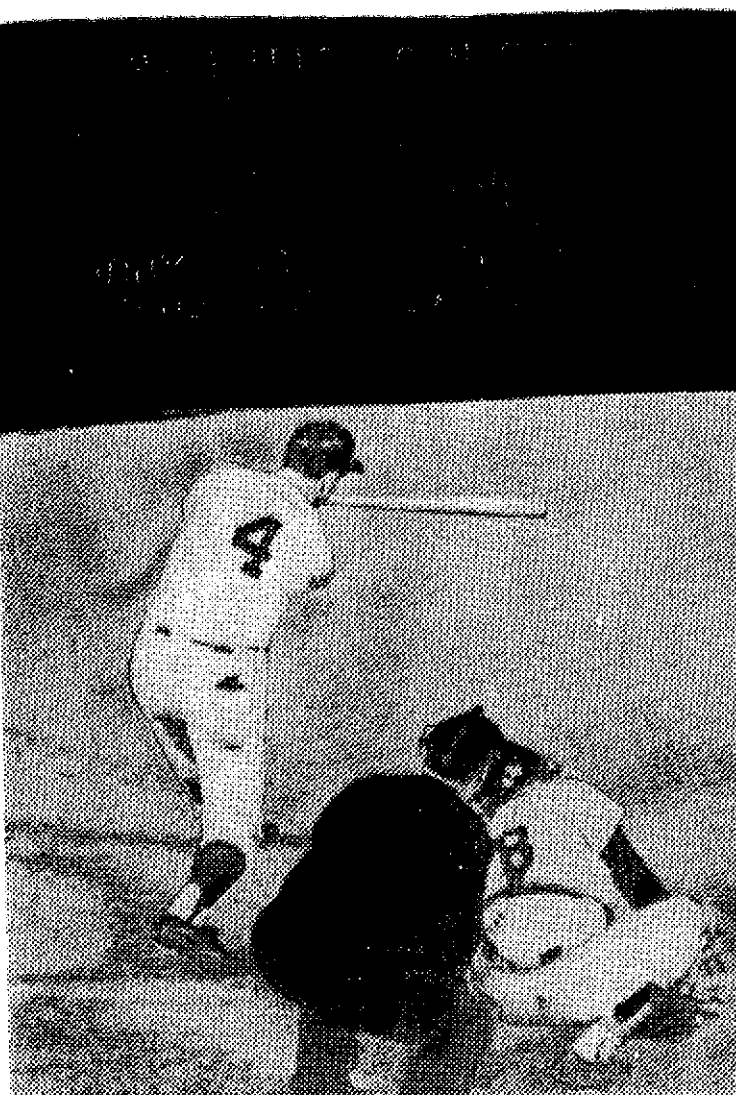

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SHANNON, Ireland (AP) — A U. S. Army sergeant's wife gave birth to a six-pound daughter aboard a New York-bound jetliner over the Atlantic Wednesday night. The delivery was without complications, but the jet turned back to Shannon Airport.

The baby, a month premature, was delivered by Nick Muller, a steward on the Pan American Airways charter plane.

The mother, Mrs. Martin McNamer, 23, gave birth on a makeshift bed set up on the floor of the forward cabin. Sgt. McNamer is waiting for his new family in New York.

In nautical language, a sheet is a rope used to haul sails out and in.

RON SWOBODA of the New York Mets got the message in Los Angeles during a night game with the Dodgers Sept. 12 when the scoreboard informed him that he had just become a father. If the story was fiction, Swoboda would have hit a home run to celebrate the happy event. But such things don't happen too often in real life and Swoboda struck out.

Eddie Wasn't Ready

By SANDY PADWE

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Eddie Donovan has been a general manager for three years.

His team is the New York Knickerbockers. The sport is professional basketball.

Therefore, Eddie Donovan, quite simply, was not prepared for Cazzie Russell.

Cazzie, however, was prepared for Eddie Donovan. After the Knicks had chosen the Michigan All-America first in the college draft, Cazzie introduced Donovan to Arthur Morse.

"My lawyer," Cazzie said.

"My client," Morse said.

"My pocketbook," Donovan said.

"Exactly," Morse said.

That was last May. How far apart were the Knicks and college basketball's player of the year?

"Well," Donovan said. "I was in New York and they were in Chicago."

By September, Donovan still was in New York while

Russell's holdout—if it could really be called that—was important because of the ideas it might give the older pros and future rookies.

Life in the NBA is very casual, very profitable for most of the people involved. It's guys like Arthur Morse who make the owners worry.

Doug's Day Off Pays

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — (NEA)—Doug Sanders, whose idea of high society used to be the Club 78 in Cedarhurst, Ga., was stretched out on the cabana lounge at the Fontainebleau (more popularly known as the Fountain Blue).

Doug fitted the surroundings. He figures to pay taxes on a quarter of a million dollars this year.

At least, he winks knowingly when you mention that figure.

Way I live," he says. $50,000 goes for pocket money."

Doug can't relax without replenishing his pockets.

For instance, he missed the cut in the Philadelphia "Classic" which should have meant a last weekend for the most colorful golfer on the pro tour.

Instead, he wound up here among the palm trees to play a round of golf with Jackie Gleason. The Great One was just unwinding from celebrating the start of his new television season for CBS—a process which lasted until 6 a.m. Doug unwound, too, with triple daiquiris. Golf didn't prosper as a result.

Only Sanders.

He got paid $3,000 for being trucked down to play golfing consort to the Great One. For comparison, Dave Marr, who shared the lead in the $110,000 Philadelphia tournament while Doug was whisked southward, wound up with $900 fewer than Sanders for the privilege of playing all the way through. So Doug had both his foot and the Lost Weekend, and immediately hopped a plane and was off to the Royal Birdale Golf Course in Southport, England, to compete in the Carling World Open.

Ahead was a breathless schedule:

London for two days and some golf commercials.

Why They Died

Forty-eight thousand Americans died in traffic accidents last year and another 3,840,000 were injured. We think it pertinent to list the actions of drivers which resulted in deaths in 1964. Here's the tally by percentages: Exceeding speed limit, 40.7; wrong side of road, 15.4; did not have right-of-way, 11.7; cutting in, 11.5; passing on curve or hill, 5; passing on wrong side, 2.1; failure to signal or improper signaling, .6; runaway car with no driver, .1; driving off roadway, 12.7; reckless driving, 15.1; miscellaneous, 1.0. In general, these percentages closely approximate those for 1963 accidents, except for reckless driving, which was up over 3 per cent in 1964. Traffic deaths last year increased 5,300 over 1963. Injuries increased by 380,000. Should there be any reason to wonder why automobile liability insurance rates keep climbing? — Roanoke (Va.) Times

Grandpa Has Problems

Television has received its share of hard knocks the last few years. Poor programs, re-runs, biased news reporting have been just some of the squawks. Now comes a new one. A Michigan doctor says the tube, as the English call TV, is causing old age to be worse than it would normally be. Too many old people sit in front of the screen all day. "The shaky hand and tottering gait are the results of lack of condition and exercise, not the passage of time," said Dr. Frederick C. Swartz, of Lansing. The cure for these so-called stigmas of aging is obviously exercise and study, he added. Perhaps what we need is a revival of the community general store, where waiting on customers was incidental to the checker game that went on day-in and day-out. At least Grandpa had to walk to the store each day to get into the game. — Laurel (Miss.) Leader - Call

A Dog's Life

One of the numerous studies into the effect of tobacco smoking on health involved the use of dogs in lieu of people as experimental animals. The following excerpts from the research report indicates an unsuspected parallel: "The researchers said the dogs initially behaved like a child smoking his first cigarette. There was profuse salivation, coughing, dilation of the pupils, redness and tears in the eyes and sometimes nausea and dizziness. After a week or so, the dog showed signs of enjoying smoking — as evidenced by tail wagging and voluntarily jumping into the smoking box." — Columbia (S.C.) State

Well, you can't win 'em all. The suburbanite knows it, when, after heavily investing in fertilizer to resuscitate his scraggly lawn, he awakens to a rainy weekend.

AMPHIBIOUS LANDINGS are rare in the Vietnamese war, but these U.S. Marines took part in one near Ham Tan, South Viet Nam, when they stormed ashore as part of Operation Deckhouse 3. More than 1,000 Americans went ashore from the carrier Iwo Jima. No initial resistance was reported.

Feels U.S. Can Still Block China

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are reported confident they have enough votes to again block an anticipated move to admit Communist China to the United Nations.

The officials, who refused to be named, said Thursday they expect the same group of countries to resubmit in the U.N. session beginning Tuesday the so-called Albanian proposal which would admit Red China in place of Nationalist China.

The vote on the proposal, which needs a two-thirds majority, was 47 to 47 last year. Officials predicted a vote this fall at least as strong as last year's against giving Peking a seat.

In other Asian developments Thursday.

Officials in Washington said although the South Viet Nam election so far has resulted in no discernable effect on the military situation, its success indicates more stability in the country's political institutions than could be predicted months ago.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk compared Communist efforts in Southeast Asia with Hitler's in Europe before World War II. Noting that "there were people who thought Hitler would be satisfied with just one more bite," he said U.S. firmness is needed in the Far East because "we dare not let aggression move beyond control."

Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee announced the group will begin closed hearings Tuesday on the U.S. buildup in Thailand. The Arkansas Democrat said he doubted there would be any public sessions.

Authorities said the United Nations-Red China decision was made after a thorough review of U.S. policy.

They said they do not anticipate a two-China proposal to be submitted—calling for U.N. membership for both the Peking and the Formosa-based governments.

They also said Red China has shown an aggressive militancy and should not be rewarded by a U.N. seat at this time.

Rusk made his Communist-Hitler comparison at dedication ceremonies at the $103-million Big Bend Dam near Fort Thompson, S.D. But he said while firmness is needed, the United States must not slide down "the slippery slope to a greater confrontation."

Fulbright said Assistant Secretary of State William P. Bundy would be the first witness at the Thailand buildup hearings. Bundy has said there now are 25,000 U.S. troops in the Southeast Asian nation, most of them airmen.

Says British Train Doctors for America

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BIRMINGHAM, England (AP)—"Britain simply cannot afford to train doctors for the purpose of swelling the membership of the American Medical Association," says Britain's health minister.

Kenneth Robinson expressed his views Thursday, only 24 hours after 600 young British doctors took an examination by the U.S. Educational Council.

"One wants to see a reasonable exchange of medical personnel across national frontiers, preferably on a temporary basis. But to accept a fine medical education in Britain with the deliberate intention of selling it elsewhere where the price may be, or may seem to be, higher, is in my view a cynical and selfish act," Robinson said.

Doctors in Britain's state-run health service claim they are overworked — some put in a 110-hour week — and underpaid. The starting salary is about $2,000 a year.

Soviet Union to Make UN Contribution

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union and Hungary are expected to make voluntary contributions soon to ease the U.N. peacekeeping deficit, U.N. informants say.

They anticipated the contributions would be forthcoming in the next week or two, to fulfill vague, general commitments made over a year ago. The U.N. General Assembly session opens Tuesday.

Eastern European sources expressed belief the contributions would be made before next weekend by Hungarian Foreign Minister Janos Peter and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Some Eastern Europeans said the purpose was to encourage U Thant of Burma to accept a second term as secretary-general and to spotlight the United States as the main barrier to his doing that.

Thant gave notice Sept. 1 that he had decided against a second term. His current term expires Nov. 3. He cited such problems as a U.N. deficit, poor prospects for future U.N. peacekeeping activities, lack of universality in U.N. membership and the threat of a major war over Viet Nam as influencing his decision.

The Soviet bloc and France created the financial deficit by refusing to pay disputed General Assembly assessments for peacekeeping purposes. They differ with the majority over how to authorize new operations.

The United States has been blamed for preventing the United Nations from becoming a universal organization by its opposition to seating of Communist China. U. S. policy in Viet Nam also has been criticized by Thant, who deplored "relying on force and military means in a deceptive pursuit of peace."

A U.N. committee has estimated the peacekeeping deficit at between $32 million and $53 million. How much the Russians and Hungarians will contribute is not known.

Tax Incentive Suspension Bill to Pass

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House will pass President Johnson's proposal to suspend special business tax incentives, the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee predicts.

And Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., believes the President's anti-inflation program has had a good psychological effect even though "maybe we were a little late in moving."

The business tax proposal is expected today to win support from labor but draw an exemption plea from farmers at a hearing of Mills' committee.

Another anti-inflation tool is headed for the President's desk. It is a bill granting federal regulatory agencies the power to set interest ceilings on bank deposits. The House-passed measure won Senate approval Thursday and is expected to get Johnson's signature quickly.

Farm organization representatives, scheduled to testify before the Ways and Means Committee today, indicate they will ask for exemption of farm equipment purchases from Johnson's proposed 16-month suspension of the 7 per cent investment tax credit.

Present law allows purchasers of productive equipment to deduct 7 per cent of the cost from their income tax. Some committee members have indicated they would listen with favor to arguments of farmers who want to purchase equipment with what, in some areas, have been the best agricultural earnings in several years.

Should Thank DAR for Soviet MIG Reminding Public of Constitution Week

By CATHERINE R. HOWARD
Regent, Hope DAR Chapter
Today, September 17, 1966, marks the one hundred and seventy-ninth anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States of America by the members of the Constitutional Convention, who thereby gave expression to the soul and spirit of the Declaration of Independence.

United States citizenship is a glorious possession representing the dreams and struggles of man for centuries. Our constitution, which guarantees priceless freedoms to our citizens, set forth a concept of liberty that has been an inspiration to freedom-loving people everywhere. It is, therefore, most fitting to stress the significance of this concept by affording an opportunity for all American citizens to rededicate themselves to the ideals and principles upon which this Nation was founded and built.

Long known as "Citizenship Day" or "Constitution Day," September seventeenth of each year became the date when patriotic Americans gave especially thoughtful consideration to the events that led to the framing of the Constitution and of the means of preserving it from those who would weaken or destroy it.

In 1955, the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution originated the idea of devoting an entire week to the study of the Constitution by extending the period of observance beyond the one day of September 17, the day on which, in 1787, the Constitution had been signed.

The outstanding success of this undertaking led to the approval by Congress of a joint resolution authorizing the designation by the President of the United States of America of "CONSTITUTION WEEK," beginning on September seventeenth of each year.

The underlying purpose of "CONSTITUTION WEEK" is to strengthen a Nation dedicated to liberty and justice, a Nation in which its citizens may live an abundant life, developing to the fullest their individual opportunities for success and rendering a corresponding service to their country.

Because for 179 years the Constitution of the United States of America has been the symbol of man's capacity to govern himself, we owe it our freedom, past, present and future. Our Constitution is a living document, as relevant today as on September 17, 1787. It has endowed us with a concept of government and a charter of liberty that combine the wisdom of the ages with the urgency of this unclear age. It is still the promise of protection from government and by government.

Every loyal American should observe "CONSTITUTION WEEK" by becoming reacquainted with the rights and privileges of citizenship which is our Constitutional Heritage, our just and lawful birthright. Every American should and must understand this system of government by which we live and for which so many have died.

For liberty is a blessing that must be constantly fostered. Abraham Lincoln said, "Our reliance is in the love of liberty which God has planted in us. Our defense is in the spirit which prizes liberty as the heritage of all men." Thomas Jefferson wrote, "The God that gave us life gave us liberty at the same time." And Woodrow Wilson declared, "Liberty has never come from the government. The history of liberty is the history of the limitation of governmental power, not the increase of it."

As American citizens, each of us lives under a Government of the People, by the People, for the People; a Government founded on a fundamental belief in God, a Government by Constitution whose cornerstone is a belief in the value and importance of each person as an individual. For this belief, WE THE PEOPLE of the United States did ordain this Constitution for the United States of America. Our Constitution is still the certain guarantee of our basic rights. It must remain so.

In his beautiful poem, "Watch America," Robert Nathan has these lines: "God who gave our father freedom, who made our fathers brave, who made our fathers build in love and anguish, let their children watch and save."

At the beginning of this CONSTITUTION WEEK, 1966, the John Cain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, would urge all Americans to join in a rededication to and respect for this greatest of all public documents and to defend it against all threats to its supremacy. Let us protect our Constitution so that it may continue to protect us.

Vote to Test Sentiment in Georgia

By DICK BLYSTONE
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Con-

verging toward a runoff Democratic primary for governor, moderate Ellis Arnall and segregationist Lester Maddox promise a clash which will test the weight of growing progressive sentiment in Georgia.

Arnall, 59, who led six candidacies in Wednesday's primary, and Maddox, 50, who ran second with about four-fifths as many votes, have little in common but the desire to halt in November the first Republican threat in a century.

Rep. Howard H. Callaway, the state's first GOP congressman since Reconstruction, quit his Washington post to try for the governor's office.

Ironically, Arnall, who served one term as governor 20 years ago, and Maddox, now an Atlanta furniture dealer, have so far campaigned least of all on one of the issues on which they differ the most — race.

They didn't have to. It was common knowledge that Maddox abandoned the restaurant business in 1964 after a federal judge ruled he would be fined $200 a day if he refused to serve Negroes.

Although he is commonly labeled a liberal and a friend of the Johnson administration, Arnall shuns classification, saying he is "just a native-born Georgian with a program to carry Georgia forward into the 21st century."

Georgia's Republican resurgence, beginning with a Goldwater sweep in 1964, has emphasized that conservative power in the state is still strong.

But it has tended to obscure a gain in liberal-moderate strength which gave Arnall and State Sen. Jimmy Carter together got more primary votes than Maddox and three other anti-administration candidates combined.

On the basis of that strength, Arnall, who has defended the federal government without being specific about it, predicts victory as confidently as he did a year ago when he started campaigning.

Older than most of his competition, Arnall still has tried to project an image of youthful progressiveness, promising to revamp the state government and begin a host of new programs with Georgia's rapidly growing tax revenue.

Maddox, who attributes his success so far to "God and a lot of wonderful Georgians," has berated the federal government but left many details of his conservatism to the imagination.

Ambulance Franchise Asked

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — A Conway man has asked the city council here for an exclusive franchise to conduct an ambulance service in the city.

Robert W. Henry, city attorney, said the city was powerless to grant an exclusive franchise.

The council informed the man, Ray Coker, that he could operate without the city's official action.

One funeral home in Conway has already announced that it is dropping its ambulance service and two others say they will quit their service when they are assured someone else will take it over.

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. pilots downed a Communist MIG in one of two dogfights over North Viet Nam Friday, but two American planes were lost in other action over the north, a U.S. military spokesman reported today.

The Soviet-built MIG was knocked out of the sky by a heat-seeking Sidewinder missile in an engagement northeast of Hanoi in which three Americans piloting F4C Phantom jets were outnumbered by four MIG-17s. The pilot of the struck MIG was killed.

An Air Force spokesman said the two downed American planes brought to 375 the number lost over North Viet Nam. A total of 120 have been shot down in the south. He said 206 helicopters also have been downed in the south and three in the north.

On the ground, a Communist force of more than battalion strength opposed two companies of U.S. Marines today just three miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The Marines were believed to be fighting a reinforced North Vietnamese army battalion, or possibly two battalions. A Marine spokesman said the two companies "don't seem to be in any particular danger."

The fighting began about noon Friday. Since then the Marines had killed 50 Communists, according to body count. They estimated 110 more of the enemy have been killed, but this figure was not confirmed.

The pilot of one plane knocked down Friday was listed as missing, but the two-man crew of the other was rescued by helicopter. Their Phantom was hit while they were striking supply targets in the panhandle area just north of the demilitarized zone, and they bailed out over the sea.

It was the second time the pilot, 1st Lt. Bernard D. Glere of Chicago, had been shot down and rescued and the third time for the copilot, 1st Lt. Henry J. Knock, 27, of Akron, Ohio.

The downed MIG was the 19th lost by the enemy in aerial combat over North Viet Nam, compared with five U.S. jets.

Earth Is Flat Says Society in Britain

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
LONDON (AP) — No matter what astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Richard F. Gordon Jr. said about seeing the earth as a ball, they can't convince Britain's Flat Earth Society.

"Those chaps splashed down in an Atlantic that wasn't revolving as they claimed it was," said Sam Shenton, honorary secretary of the society, today. "The Atlantic was down there waiting to receive them," he said in a telephone interview from his home in Dover, England.

Shenton's organization has been arguing the earth is flat despite photographic and visual testimony of American and Soviet spacemen.

If you can follow this reasoning—and many people can't — here is the organization's position as outlined by Shenton: "The thing is this. Astronaut Conrad said: 'I will tell you we can't believe it—just out of my left window I could see all the way up to the top of the world—the all way around for 150 degrees including the horizon all the way around.'"

"Now my comment is this. That means to say that astronaut Conrad, at some 800 miles up, has a horizon which is horizontal all the way around for 150 degrees. That means to say that, if he were looking in any other direction that same horizon, level with his eyes, would continue to encircle him."

"Now, we Flat Earthers have always stated, since the early days of balloons and such like adventures into the upper stratosphere, that the horizon is level with the eye of the observer or the camera."

If you have any questions, Shenton's address is Dover, England.
